MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

For many generations Wake Forest College has offered able and honest students the opportunity to acquire an education in the liberal arts and sciences. Through the years thousands of young men have gone out from this campus to take their places as leaders in the life of the state and in the work of the world and to bring honor and praise to their Alma Mater.

We are glad to greet you as friends. We welcome you to the intellectual treasures of our library. We welcome you to our laboratories, classrooms, society halls, and art gallery. We welcome you to the gymnasium, and athletic fields. We welcome you to the fellowship of professors who are devoted to the advancement of learning and the intellectual and spiritual welfare of youth. We welcome you to all the resources, memories, traditions, and friendships that make up the Wake Forest spirit.

We salute you at the beginning of your college career. We think you have a love of learning, a respect for the integrity of the human mind, and a devotion to lofty moral ideals. Therefore, we are glad you are here for work, for play, for friendly fellowships, and for the discovery and development of the highest possibilities of your lives.

THE DEAN'S MESSAGE

On the threshold of your college career, we desire to assure you of more than an ordinary welcome. These are uncommon times and there are uncommon opportunities ahead. Whether a life filled with the exigencies of war, we, like you, are uncertain. But of one thing we are certain—there is a greater demand for well trained college men now, both in pursuits of peace and war, than in ordinary years. The various fields of flight training demand intellectual equipment, along with strong bodies and dependable attitudes. The many types of defense training make it possible for the college man to discover his abilities; also to secure the type of training that should fit him for opportunities of his own choice. Soldiers in the barracks and students in college are brothers in the common cause of defending the high ideals of the American way of life. We welcome you to the task.

D. B. BRYAN.

A WORD FROM YOUR FRIEND THE BURSAR

During my senior year at Wake Forest, Bursar Mills had a breakdown and the Trustees asked me to come into the office and help for a few months. I have remained some 34 years!

Over this period I have had many experiences—some of them strange, a few tragic, a number of them amusing. To illustrate the third type: during the last war, an illiterate lad (hoping to escape the draft by entering the classroom) wrote me a letter, addressing it to

"The Buzzar of Wake Forest College"

I was grateful to him for leaving off the final "d"!

It isn't a very popular office—that of the bursar. Some seem to think we should hang above the door this sign: "All cash abandon, all ye who enter here!"

It's true that I am here to receive cash—the motors can't run without fuel—but it has always been my desire in making collections both to get the money and keep the friendship of the person involved—that is, to help and not to hurt.

I am a busy man, but never too busy to discuss your problem with you—all the way from a slice in your income to a slice in your golf. Remember that my private office is accessible at all times to a worried or homesick student.

CLASS OF 1945

To the Class of 1945:

This will serve as a second welcome from the Registrar's Office which has already been in correspondence with nearly all new men on the campus.

In order that our relations may be mutually helpful, it is suggested that all new students become familiar with the contents of the Catalogue, particularly the sections which are entitled General Information and Requirements for Degrees. Another helpful bit of information which is often overlooked is the introductory statement at the head of the section devoted to Courses of Instruction. It should be noted that one does not unceremoniously cease class attendance, or withdraw from the College. If either of these moves should be contemplated, one should consult his adviser for guidance.

While each new man will be assigned to an adviser, the Registrar's Office will be pleased to be of all possible assistance at the opening of the session, and will welcome any student for a conference at any time during the year.

G. S. PATTERSON.

FROM "COACH BIG JIM"

On behalf of the department of athletics it gives me great pleasure to take this opportunity to welcome you incoming students to Wake Forest College.

It is my hope that your stay here will be as profitable to you as I am sure it will be pleasant.

Although you come from widely separated areas and leave behind many friends and loved ones, I am sure that within a few days you will be adjusted to your new surroundings and within a very short time will have grasped the spirit of these surroundings and will fall in line with others here fast becoming good Wake Forest men proud to uphold her many honored traditions.

I hasten to suggest that you take part in some athletic activity during each of your years spent here, and I wish to assure you that if at any time during your stay here the personnel of the athletic department can be of any service to you what so ever either individually or collectively that those in the department will only be too glad to render whatever service we may.

JIM WEAVER, Athletic Director.

WHAT IS WAKE FOREST?

Of course you think that is a silly question. Why Wake Forest is a college located 16 miles from Raleigh, etc. But Wake Forest is a more than just a college. It is the total sum of 107 years of service to the state of North Carolina in fields of law, medicine, religion, journalism, etc. Yet Wake Forest does not stop there. Its service cannot be estimated.

Before you, thousands of men have entered here and thousands have gone out being enriched for their pains and in turn have enriched the college. These men have taken their place in the world and now look to you to take their place. You have big shoes to fill and you can do it as they have. Years from now fingers will be pointed in your direction and you will be the Kitchens, Broughtons, Martins, Poteats, Baileys, Mulls, Humbers, Webbs, Hayes,

ITS HARDWICKE'S FOR MAGAZINES

Dixons, McNeils, Gulleys, and Meekins of today and yesterday.

Yes, it is a great heritage but as Wake Forest men YOU CAN DO IT.

But Wake Forest begins at Wake Forest. While you are here make the most of it. Make every day count. Don't spent all your time studying nor all of your time not studying. Get interested in one or two campus activities and give your all to them and your studies. In some organization on the campus you are wanted and needed. Publications, Music, Athletics, Forensics, and scores of others in which you will find your place.

Yes, Wake Forest is all of this. Professors, buildings, organizations, football games and all the rest make up Wake Forest College. Do your best and let's make this our greatest year.

COLLEGE BOOK STORE

To you who are entering Wake Forest College for the first time, the personnel of the College Book Store extends a hearty welcome. It will give us genuine pleasure to meet you and know each of you personally.

We are located in the Social Science building in the center of activity of the college. Stop in to see us as soon as you arrive. Meet the number of students that work here. They will be glad to help you in any way possible. You will always find a warm welcome here, and someone ready to help you or advise you. Again let us say welcome.

CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS

The Literary Societies

The two Literary Societies, Euzelian and Philomathesian, were organized almost as soon as the college became a reality. In the minutes of the societies can be found the names of famous orators and writers who once declamed in those ancient halls.

Now the two organizations have spacious quarters on the top floor of the Administration Building. In the old days membership was gained by conscription but now it is voluntary. Now as then every student takes an active part in one of either socity and each new man is "rushed" by the members of the societies as potential statesmen.

A looked for moment every September is the time when each group has open house and all the students gather in to listen to the merits of each and to enjoy the hospitality by partaking freely of the smokes and eats provided by the funds of each group.

The groups meet twice weekkly, on Monday and Thursday evenings at 7.00 and the doors are always open to men who wish to become affiliated with them. Each society offers four medals annually to the best speaker or orator in his class and medals to the first year men for improvement in public speaking.

The groups again have open house on Society Day and again on Founders Day. This time not for free eats and smokes but for some high class debating and oratory. Medals are awarded to each speaker. Many old alumni attend; each member escorting his girl to the occasion. These are usually followed by an athletic event and then in the evening the annual banquet.

Phi President—Ed Wilson.

Eu President—George Eddins.

Monogram Club

In 1938 the legendary figure, Gordon A. "Scoop" Philips and a few others realized the need of an honorary athletic arganization on the campus and the Monogram Club was founded. It is still going strong as one of the most active organizations on the campus and its members are widely recognized as leaders not only on the campus but in Southern Conference athletics.

This year Pat Geer, varsity end, is president and plans are being made to make this year for the Club THE GREATEST.

Glee Club

Known all over the south for its good singing the Wake Forest Glee Club in the past few years has kept up their reputation in its many trips throughout the year in the dozens of concerts it gives all over the southern states.

To new men who enjoy to sing with their fellows and who can carry a tune are not only asked but are urged to report for the first call to practice. This year plans are underway for several concert tours in the largest cities on the eastern seaboard.

DIAL HARDWICKE'S FOR SPEEDY SERVICE

The Band

Last year the Wake Forest College Band accompanied the football team at every game except two, which were too far to travel. It is a very inspiring sight to see the boys on any athletic field, some 100 strong playing the school song and marching in tricky formations.

There is a place and a uniform for every man who can play an instrument and some mighty nice football trips. Practice will begin during the first week of school and all men are urged to come out for the first call.

Cheer Leaders

In years gone by cheer leaders at Wake Forest have been elected by the student body and proved effective. But—this year a new method will be used. Realizing that there are many freshmen elibible and capable for such a task the selection of this years cheer leaders has been left open until just before the first game.

They will be chosen this way. During the first or second day of school there will be a call for all men interested to report. These men under the guidance of last years cheer leader will learn the yells, formations, and devise new ones and from this group five will be picked with the others as alternates. Every one has an equal chance.

Arrangements have already been made to broadcast several of the pep meetings and all freshmen are to sit in a body at all games to give ample support to the cheer leaders.

Copies of the pep songs and yells will be distributted to all men before each game. This year will be the greatest year for that famous "Deamon Deacon" spirit.

Debate Squad

Every year the Wake Forest College varsity debaters participate in scores of debates and several tournaments. As a general rule they return with several trophies. In order to keep up the reputation as good speakers the debaters work hard. Under Zon Robinson the speakers have won several debate titles and scores of individual speaking contests. All men who wish to become a member of the team or improve their public speaking are welcome to join the squad when they have their weekly meetings.

PUBLICATIONS

THE OLD GOLD AND BLACK, school newspaper is run by the students and for the students and is issued once every week except holidays. It has always been a leader in North Carolina Collegiate Circles and is good training for those students interested in taking up journalism as their life work.

The editor is Bill Ayres and his aim for this year is to put out the best collegiate paper in the south. He can do this only by hard work with a competent staff made up of several new men.

D. E. Ward is business manager and he too can use you on his staff.

HARDWICKE'S DRUG STORE, WAKE FOREST

The Student is the campus magazine published six times during the school year. This periodical accepts contributions from the student body and new me are welcome to assist Editor Neil Morgan on the staff. There is also a place for you on the business end under Donald Bradsher.

The Howler, Wake Forest annual, this year is under the direction of "Flash" Jennings and Judson Creech. It takes a lot of hard but enjoyable work to put out a year book that we all are proud of.

FRATERNITY

The most closely knit body of students on a college campus today is certainly a fraternity, composed of students with the same tastes, interests, and aims.

Such an organization requires continuous association and cooperation among the small group of men during the several years they spend together on the campus. Each member gets from it only what he is willing to give in time and effort.

On behalf of the fraternities of Wake Forest College, I extend you a hearty welcome. It is through you incoming students who will accept the invitation to pledge, that the high standards set by those who have gone before will be carried on and advanced.

The fraternity activities through which fraternity men and freshmen become mutually acquainted and mutually decide upon extension of invitations to join and acceptance of these invitations, are called rushings.

Rushing may begin on the day of registration—September 9—and invitations shall be extended on the evening of October 7, at 7 P. M., at the Dean's office. Twenty-two hours prior to this time, there shall be a silence period during which it shall be a violation of this agreement to contact any rushee about his choice of a fraternity or that he will be extended a bid. Any word, sign, gesture—direct or indirect by active member, inactive member or alumnus during this period shall be deemed a violation. The silence period ends upon dismissal from the Dean's office.

It shall be a violation of this agreement for freshmen to stay in fraternity quarters after 9 P. M. In case of freshmen living in fraternity dormitory or house, they shall leave the social hall at 9 P. M. Rushing everywhere is prohibited after 8:30 P. M.

These rules about times for rushing shall not apply on Saturday for chapter giving a smoker.

The only form of entertainment permitted during this rushing season shall be one smoker for each fraternity to be held in its social quarters between the hours of 7 and 11 P. M. Treating in any other manner shall be a violation of the agreeement. The constitution of the council specifically bans banquets and dances.

On Tuesday, October 7, at 7 P. M., the freshmen who have been rushed shall report at the Dean's office to receive formal bids and to state the fraternity of their choice. The freshman shall state their first, second, and third choices of fraternities. Each freshman shall committ himself as a pledge of a fraternity by signing the pledge book of the fraternity of his choice or shall sign himself as undecided. Freshmen will then report to the fraternity of their choice for the formal pledging ceremmony and the acceptance of the pledge pin.

College Assembly

All freshmen are required to attend Chapel daily in the Social Science Building. The exercises are brief and are usually educational and devotional in character. Discussions by members of the faculty and visiting speakers, programs by student organizations, and musical features make the assemblies enjoyable as well as profitable.

Absences and Cuts

Each student is allowed to "cut" or be absent from class without penalty as many times a semester as that class meets. For example English 1 is a three hour course and every man is allowed as many as three absences on that course without penalty.

Every man who is absent from a course because of illness, a death in the family, or for some other bona fide reason should make out a written statement of the hours missed and the reason and turn it over to the Dean immediately on his return to college.

Every student is warned not to drop courses without the explicit permission of the Dean and the Professor in charge of the course. To do otherwise means a call to the Dean's office.

Freshman Advisory Committee

The purpose of this committee is to make it easier for each member of the Freshman Class to become a worthwhile Wake Forest Student. The Committee shall consider the case of any freshman who disregards any of the rules made by the Student Council for every first year man enrolled in the Freshman Class.

Every Freshman is hereby warned to abide by these following rules:

1. Freshmen shall at all times speak to upperclassmen and to each other when passing them on the campus or in the town.

2. Freshmen shall not be down town after 9 P. M., except on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. This rule does not apply to society meetings or to any other meeting of a duly organized and recognized student organization.

3. Freshmen must attend all pep meetings or athletic contests on the campus or have some valid excuse for not doing so. At all football games they are required to sit in a body and follow instructions of the cheer leaders.

4. Freshmen shall learn all College Songs and yells.

5. Freshmen shall purchase the college colors as provided by the student council. These colors are to be worn at all times while in Wake Forest through October 15 and at all athletic contests thereafter.

All honor now be thine,
Mother, today.

With hearts o'erflowing we will sing her hymn.

As frosh we adore her, as sophs we explore her,

As juniors patrol her, as seniors extol her,
And weep to leave fore'er her sacred halls.

And o'er memory's treasure we'll drink without measure,
And sing fore'er our Alma Mater's praise.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

The Honor System at Wake Forest simply means that every man is on his honor as a gentleman to conduct himself in a manner to be expected of a gentleman and to report violations of this code of ethics on the part of others. It has grown up in the life of our College that men are more good than bad and given an equal opportunity, will select the right in preference to the wrong; that self government is necessary in an institution training for citizenship in a democratic state, and individual responsibility adds effort and interest on the part of the individual. All students are on their honor to abstain from such acts as cheating, hazing, stealing, and gambling; in other words they are on their honor to do the right thing at all times and to abstain from the wrong.

The whole effort of those interested in student government at Wake Forest is bent toward making this a better place to spend four years. Let us cooperat, therefore, in the movement for better student government, better student life, and a more ideal place in which to work.
